

Eastern Markets Yesterday

(By L. J. Overlock.)
BOSTON, May 29.—The strength and activity in North America was the feature of the local market today. North America is selling better than any stock on the list. Profit taking to the amount of 2500 shares has gone on the past few days but the people back of the movement readily absorbed all stock offered and today buyers found little stock for sale. Lumber also advanced easily on good buying. C. & A. and S. & P. were strong. The market anxiously awaits supreme court decisions. It was anticipated after close of market that the government had won its case against the American Tobacco Co.—Palmer, Webster & Co.
Cuba continue quiet but offerings are not pressed for sale. Warren sold at 21 and 22. Denn 5 for small block and American at 2. North Texas in good demand at 14 to 15.

MEETING OF ABSTAINERS.
CLINTON, Ia., May 29.—The Iowa organization of the Catholic Abstinence Union, of which Archbishop Keane of Dubuque is honorary president, met in this city today for its annual state convention. During the day the convention listened to addresses by a number of prominent temperance speakers. Prominent among those in attendance were the Rev. W. J. McNamee of Joliet, president of the Illinois society; Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan of Chicago, head of the national society, and the Very Rev. E. J. Dougherty of Mason City.

SUIT AGAINST "TRUST."
RALEIGH, N. C., May 29.—The damage case of the Ware-Kramer Tobacco company of Norfolk against the American Tobacco company, came up for trial in the federal court here today. The suit is for $1,200,000 damages for alleged violations of the Sherman antitrust law.

STATUE OF QUEEN VICTORIA.
BERLIN, Oct. 29.—297 Grey visited Berlin today for the unveiling of the Queen Victoria statue in Victoria Park. Interesting ceremonies attended the unveiling. The statue was erected by the Daughters of the Empire at a cost of $5,000.

Even Pure Beer is Sensitive to Light

The direct rays of the sun on beer will start decay.

Dark glass gives protection against light.

Schlitz is sold in dark bottles, to protect its purity from the brewery to your glass.

We use the costliest materials. One of our partners selects the barley.

We go to Bohemia for hops.

Schlitz is aged for months before it is marketed, to prevent biliousness. It cannot ferment in your stomach.

We filter it through white wood pulp. Sterilize every bottle.

We spend more money to attain purity than on any other cost in our brewing.

If you knew what we know about beer, you would say, "Schlitz—Schlitz in Brown Bottles."

RECIPROCITY HAVING VERY STONY PATH

Standpatters in Senate Prepare to Put Hooks Into Program

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.—Surrounded by a corps of unwilling physicians, Canadian reciprocity bids fair to die under their unkind ministrations. The doctors who thus have come to bury their patient, if they care, are of the republican majority of the senate committee on finance, to whose tender mercies the measure is still entrusted, and the agonizing father of the child, President Taft, is helpless while these physicians wrangle over their diagnosis.

The unkindest of these physicians is Elihu Root, Senator from New York, who thinks the best thing for the patient is a major operation to eliminate the provision for the free admission of wood pulp and paper. If he succeeds in having this amendment passed, and this seems exceedingly likely, there is every prospect that the bill will be hung up in conference all summer, for the democratic majority of the house insists it will not pass an amended bill.

May Die in Senate.
There is even danger that the senate may kill the measure outright, for outside the democratic minority the support it is receiving is anything but strong. The republican senators, who are for it, almost without exception, are for it merely because President Taft has asked them to be, and because it is an administrative measure. Even Senator Keen, one of those closest to President Taft, is declared to have told the president that his vote for the measure would be his political death warrant.

As things stand now, there is every prospect that the senate finance committee will report it to the senate without recommendation, although a majority of the committee is opposed to it. But it is expected that they will incorporate the root amendment in the measure. The committee report is expected to come in about June 1. Then there will be at least six weeks of debate, according to the present outlook. But a continuation of the present hot war may shrink that.

Senator Cullum is now locked upon as the only doubtful member of the finance committee. He has been reported to favor the measure because President Taft wants it passed. But he presented a bundle of petitions to the senate today protesting against its passage and told the senate that he had received 2,000 letters opposing it. He may finally be found lined up against the bill.

How They Stand.
Of the remaining fourteen members of the committee seven are for it and eight opposed to it. The members favorable are: Senators Penrose of Pennsylvania and Lodge of Massachusetts, republicans; and Senators Stone of Missouri, Williams of Mississippi, Kern of Indiana, and Johnson of Maine, democrats.

Those opposed to it are: Senators McCumber of North Dakota, Smoot of Utah, Gallinger of New Hampshire, Clark of Wyoming, Heyburn of Ohio and La Follette of Wisconsin, republicans; and Senators Bailey of Texas and Simmons of North Carolina, democrats.

THE AMENDE HONORABLE.
Emporia Gazette: Yesterday, while the town was filled with the pomp and magnificence of the Knights Templar parade, a reporter for the Gazette said that the Fredonia band played "Beulah Land" in the procession. He also indicated, or meant to indicate, that "Beulah Land" was such a swift tune that it stringed some of the Knights to keep time to it.

The matter came to the attention of the Responsible Editor of the Gazette after the paper was out, when the damage was done. But magna est veritas et prevalebit, which, being freely translated, reads, you can't keep a good man down. Now, the truth is that the Fredonia band did not play "Beulah Land," but "Maryland, My Maryland." The Gazette will bet a bucket of ink against a keg of soap that you can't think of the two and tell them apart. Anyhow, the Gazette man who wrote up the parade is no Beethoven and he isn't supposed to have a guilty knowledge of martial music, and being a preacher's son anything that sounds like "Beulah Land" is "Beulah Land" and "Beulah Land" she goes in the paper.

Hence the grief. The Gazette hastens to apologize for the blunder. In a small town like Emporia the division of labor on a newspaper is sometimes crude. The gentlemanly and urbane reporter who covers the parade has to do the musical criticism, and the youth who rides the horses to the train for personals in his day's work sometimes has to round up the nobility in their marble halls with "vassals and serfs" by their sides. The reporter who confused "Beulah Land" with "My Maryland" and thereby insulted a sovereign city and its good people, usually devotes himself to baseball, sales day items and city hall matters. He knows just two tunes. One is "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," and the other isn't. But he often branches into speculative theories and these get him into trouble. Witness the Fredonia riot.

The Gazette trusts the explanation is sufficient. The Fredonia band is a good band. It played an entirely proper tune in the parade, and if the Knights from the slow towns of Kansas can't keep the pace Fredonia sets so — much the worse for the Knights. And now, having crawled till its vest buttons are all ripped off the Gazette desires to rise and take off its hat to Fredonia, the best town of its size in Kansas, and to the Fredonia band — an organization that will lead the chorus when the morning stars sing together.
